Do The Soviets Have Nuclear Space Weapon?

MOSCOW (UPI) — Western diplomats today debated the significance of the Soviet Union's four new tactical weapons systems and the claim that the Red Army has a rocket that can strike at target anywhere on earth from orbit in space.

"I was impressed," said one diplomat after watching the military display in Red Square Sunday which marked the 48th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

But other observers said the orbital rocket is not a new development, that the Soviet Union and the United States both have this capability. It involves putting a rocket into orbit and bringing it down on earth command.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said the Russian weapon has a warhead which "can deliver a blow, unexpectedly to the aggressor, at the first or any other loop around the earth."

A 1963 United Nations agreement, to which the Soviet Union is a party, bans nuclear weapons in space. Use of the Soviet rocket would break this agreement, Western experts said.

The military roll-past was an 81/2 minute segment of Sunday's four-hour demonstration. The Soviets unveiled a mobile air defense system, two new chassis for existing rockets and a new mobile 60-foot rocket.

Detroit White Boys Hunted In Street Slaying

DETROIT (UPI)—Police continued today to track down scores of tips in their all-out effort to find a small group of white youths believed responsible for the shotgun street slaying of a 53-year-old Negro city employe early Sunday morning.

Authorities said they believed the victim, Eddie Cook, a city sanitation worker, was the target of misdirected revenge following a "spontaneous outburst" of two teen-age gangs—one Negro and one white—earlier in the morning.

One of the three or four white youths in the car from which the fatal shot was fired reportedly laughed as the car sped away following the shooting.

Cook was shot in the right chest by a 16-gauge shotgun blast as he walked less than a block from his home in a predominantly Negro neighborhood near the cultural center on the near East Side.

Speculation was that Cook, a widower of less than four months, was returning home from work, police said. He lived with a daughter, one of his three children.

Officers rushed him to Detroit General (Receiving) Hospital where he died 36 minutes after the shooting. Doctors said he never regained consciousness.

Cuffs Helpful

NEW LONDON, Conn. (UPI)—Dan Dougherty Jr. found a washing machine handcuffed to the front of his appliance store Sunday and called police.

Police said that's where they'd found it and, unable to move it, an officer had applied the cuffs.

Dougherty said he'd forgotten to put the machine inside when he closed up shop Saturday night.

Holland Lawyer Killed In Plane Dive At O'Hare

CHICAGO (UPI) — Marine Reserve Capt. Peter L. Cupery, 33, a Holland, Mich., attorney, was killed Sunday night when his Navy T-33 jet plane crashed during a steep dive at O'Hare International Airport.

Military officials today investigated to determine the cause of the crash.

Lt. Cmdr. Tom Covill of Glenview Naval Air Station said Cupery had flown another pilot to Jacksonville, Fla., and was returning to Glenview, north of Chicago, when he was diverted to O'Hare.

Covill said fog had closed down the Glenview airstrip.

O'Hare Watch Supervisor James Rugg in the control tower said Cupery made one approach of the field but swerved off the flight path about a mile from the runway and came around again.

Rugg said he was again given clearance to land. The plane crashed as it approached the strip. There was a small fire in the plane after the crash but airport firemen quickly extinguished it.

The plane bored six feet into the ground.

Cupery was the father of four children and legal counsel and vice president of the H. E. Morse Co. in Holland.

Snow Skid Kills Ishpeming Man, Ed J. Zhulkie

ISHPEMING (UPI) — Ed J. Zhulkie, 54, Ishpeming, was killed today when his station wagon skidded in snow along U.S. 41 and crashed into a lumber truck.

Police said Zhulkie's vehicle came up behind another car and he was going too fast to stop. He slid in the snow and crashed into the oncoming lumber truck.

The truck also left the road, but the driver was not injured.

The accident happened just west of here about 8 a.m.

Buck Gores Boy At Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (UPI) — Jack Wolff, 13, went into a field near his home here to pet a pony and was attacked by a four-point buck.

Police said the 300-pound deer gored the boy in the leg and pawed him, causing bruises and lacerations, before two men came to his aid and stunned the deer with an axe. A policeman shot the animal.

Erlander, who is here is part of the "Midwest Meets Modern Sweden" program, will hold a news conference today, be made an honorary citizen of Chicago this afternoon, and speak at the Economics Club tonight.

He will travel by train to Detroit this evening.

There are 200,000 persons of Swedish descent in Chicago, and about 1 million Swedish persons in the Midwest.

Liberal Party Of Pearson Is Picked To Win

OTTAWA (UPI) — An estimated 10 million Canadians vote today in a national election that could signal the "last hurrah" for one of the country's two leading statesmen.

A bitterly fought two month campaign beset by scandal and bribery charges and threats of bombings left Liberal Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and Conservative chief John Diefenbaker in close combat for Canada's political leadership.

The most explosive national campaign in Canadian annals also spawned a serious third-party threat for the first time and gave vent to growing clamor for younger leaders.

Pearson Favored

Pearson, 68, is rated the favorite with Canada's economy sound and employment high, he called the election — the country's fifth since 1957—in hopes of obtaining a majority in Parliament.

Diefenbaker, 70, seeks to regain the prime ministers' chair he lost to Pearson two and a half years ago when Canada was enmeshed in an economic slump. His old-fashioned whistle-stop campaign by train took him to every major city and thousands of tiny hamlets.

Fighting for political survival, Diefenbaker hammered hard at scandal and morality charges which have plagued Pearson's minority government.

The balloting was viewed as possibly the last battle for the prime minister's post between arch rivals Pearson and Diefenbaker. Both were considered likely to retire before another election is called. The loser might fade from prominence even sooner.

At stake are 265 seats in Parliament to be divided among the Liberals, Conservatives and several smaller parties.

Liberal Victory

Election-eve predictions by pollsters had Pearson's Liberals returning to power with 140 seats, a slim majority. Diefenbaker's Conservatives were pegged to place second and a new threat, the New Democratic Party (NDP), headed by T.C. Douglas, was picked to finish third. The leader of the victorious party becomes prime minister.

Douglas' party was expected to seriously challenge the two main parties for the first time. Douglas, 61, resigned as premier of Saskatchewan after 17 years when the NDP was formed four years ago.

The other splinter parties, the Social Credit under Robert Thompson, 51, and the Creditistes, headed by Real Caouette, 47, have lost popularity in the economy boom and are fighting for survival.

The main campaign issues were national unity, the need for a majority government, and morality in Pearson's administration.

U.S. Planes Hit Missile Sites In Hanoi Area

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. planes smashed seven Russian-built surface-to-air (SAM) missile sites in Communist North Viet Nam during the past four days, a U.S. spokesman disclosed today. Six aircraft involved in the missions were shot down and six crewmen are missing.

The military spokesman said an Air Force F105 Thunderchief was downed by a Communist missile in a raid Friday. Its pilot presumably was killed.

On Saturday, an Air Force A1E Skyraider supporting rescue helicopters was brought down by heavy groundfire and its pilot parachuted into enemy territory.

About 90 minutes later, a U.S. Navy CH3C helicopter was hit by antiaircraft shells and all four crewmen aboard were forced to parachute. One man, the flight mechanic, was picked up later.

Later the same night, another A1E flying protective cover also was shot down. No parachute was sighted, according to other pilots.

A Navy plane was shot down Sunday but its pilot parachuted into the China Sea and was picked up unharmed.

The spokesman said Red missile sites were attacked six times in the past 48 hours.

U.S. Navy A4 Skyhawks today streaked through heavy ground fire 60 miles east of Hanoi, the Communist capital, and damaged four SAM launchers, four missiles and several buildings. All returned safely to the carrier U.S.S. Oriskany.

U.S. Air Force jets, striking closer to Hanoi than ever before, Sunday destroyed two SAM sites and a rocket support facility just 22 miles from the capital. Three other sites elsewhere were damaged by Navy planes.

Defense Chief Will Decline Michigan Race

DETROIT (UPI) — Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara probably will answer a second time this week that he has no intention of resigning from his post and returning to Michigan next year to challenge Republican Gov. George Romney.

A small group of Michigan Democrats, led by a Detroit area attorney, is seeking to lure McNamara back to Michigan for a battle with Romney, one of the GOP's prime 1968 presidential hopefuls.

William B. Elmer, a defeated candidate for Congress in 1954, and his wife, saw McNamara Friday in Washington and reportedly asked him to challenge Romney.

Elmer said McNamara told him he would give him an answer "within a day or so."

"I understand this to be today or Tuesday," Elmer said.

Elmer wouldn't say specifically what questions he asked McNamara, but said he and his wife "posed certain questions to him."

Asked whether the trip involved politics in Michigan, Elmer answered "that was the purpose of our going there."

The so-called "bring Mcnamara back to Michigan drive" started several weeks ago when freshman Michigan legislator, Sen. Carl O'Brien, D-Pontiac, on the urging of Elmer wrote McNamara and asked the former Ford Motor Co. president to run for governor.

McNamara answered the letter by cordially rejecting the proposal and politely agreeing to see the group on a visit to Washington.

Northern States Get Snowfall; Fog In Midwest

Snow and fog shrouded separate sections of the nation's central northlands today.

Snow fell today from North Dakota to Lake Superior. International Falls, Minn., reported two inches of the white stuff in six hours.

A broad section stretching from Nebraska across the southern Great Lakes to the upper Ohio Valley was covered with fog that hampered air and road travel.

Aluminum Price Increase To Stick

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Industry sources believe the aluminum price hikes will stick, despite the Johnson administration's threat to unload 200,000 tons of the metal from government stockpiles.

No one was underestimating the President's ability to put up a stiff fight if he really set his mind on making the aluminum industry do an about-face.

But industry sources doubted the administration could marshal the same powerful weapons the late President John F. Kennedy used in 1962 to make the steel industry back down from its plans for a price increase.

War Boost Demand

In announcing plans to release 200,000 tons of aluminum from government stockpiles, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said Saturday that defense production would require between 150,000 and 200,000 tons more in 1966 than this year.

If the war in Viet Nam is going to eat up aluminum as fast as the government unloads it, then there should be no slackening in demand for what the producers are turning out, one company source said. And if demand holds up, then there should be no downward pressure on prices, he added.

Stockpiles "Impure"

Other sources predicted the government would have a hard time getting aluminum users to take stockpile aluminum, much of which is impure by today's standards and requires additional refining.

Some are likening the events of the past week to the showdown between President Kennedy and the steel industry in 1962. At a news conference Saturday, Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, called the aluminum price increases "inflationary" and unjustified in the light of the industry's profits, wages and productivity.

But in 1962, Kennedy had a key weapon that Johnson lacks. Five companies with 14 per cent of the market refused to go along with the rest of the industry in raising prices.

Since the steel industry was operating well below capacity, these companies could have taken away business from the others. Fear of losing markets was one of the reasons why the price-raisers finally backed down.

Troops Visited By Governors

SAIGON (UPI)—Ten American governors left Saigon today to visit frontline American military units. It was their first visit to ground troops facing the Viet Cong on Vietnamese soil.

The governors' schedule called for them to visit remote camps of the elite special forces, fly a jet to American Marine headquarters at Da Nang and call on the Army's 1st Air Cavalry Division at An Khe in the central mountains.

The touring governors are John H. Reed of Maine, Carl E. Sanders of Georgia, John Chafee of Rhode Island, Philip H. Hoff of Vermont, George W. Romney of Michigan, Harold E. Hughes of Iowa, Tim M. Babcock of Montana, Clifford P. Hansen of Wyoming, Henry Bellmon of Oklahoma and John A. Burns of Hawaii.

Kennedy Tour

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., is planning a three-week tour of Latin America, starting Wednesday, on an unofficial "man-in-the-street" mission.

Kennedy and his wife Ethel will leave for Lima, Peru, from Los Angeles. They also plan to visit Chile, Argentina, Brazil and Venezuela. Kennedy will talk with student groups and with inhabitants of some of Latin America's teeming slums.

Princess Meets Hollywood Elite At Late Party

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Princess Margaret and husband Lord Snowden charmed Hollywood's own royalty at a swank Beverly Hills dinner party that lasted into the wee hours today.

The dark-haired princess, glittering in a cream silk evening gown, met the film capital's elite at a party given in her honor at the Bistro Restaurant by her close friend Sharman Douglas.

The royal couple left the nitery shortly before 3 a.m. PST (6 a.m. EST).

Among the motion picture celebrities at the popular French restaurant were Gregory Peck, Fred Astaire, Natalie Wood, Dorothy McGuire, Jimmy Stewart, Frank Sinatra and Mia Farrow.

Princess Margaret danced with television's Dr. Kildare, Richard Chamberlain, and with an old and dear friend, comedian Danny Kaye.

Airlift Will Bring Cubans To U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. officials today pressed forward with plans for a massive airlift of Cuban refugees. But they made it clear the new refugee agreement with Cuba did not mean any easing of relations with the Fidel Castro regime.

President Johnson announced Saturday that a "memorandum of understanding" had been reached with Cuba, permitting thousands of Cuban refugees to enter the United States. Some 3,000 to 4,000 Cubans a month are expected to be evacuated via the airlift, beginning about Dec. 1.

In the meantime —possibly this week—the United States will evacuate by chartered boats at U.S. expense about 2,000 Cubans stranded at the port of Camarioca. These refugees were caught there when Castro recently halted the exodus by small boats from the Communist island.

Johnson saw the agreement as "an important step forward" in carrying out his pledge that "those who seek refuge here will find it." But Castro, in a speech Sunday night, said, "the doors (to the United States) are open, but they are not open wide enough."

The Communist leader urged the United States to admit more than the presently scheduled 3,000 to 4,000 refugees a month. He said there could be "a jam-up" otherwise. He did not elaborate.

People Misled, Senator Says

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said Sunday national security requirements involve a "basic choice between guns and butter" but the public is not being given facts needed to make realistic judgments.

Thurmond, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, addressed a University of Pennsylvania symposium on civil liberties.

He said the Defense Department shields the public from harsh realities with "euphoria and wishful thinking."

Thurmond said Defense Secretary Robert McNamara a year ago announced he expected U. S. withdrawal from Viet Nam by January, 1965.

"Such expressions of optimism and avoidance of the harsh realities existing in Southeast Asia provided the basis for widespread confusion and considerable lack of confidence, when, subsequently, the elusion was shattered," he said.

Thurmond said the people are being kept from knowing the real cost of the Viet Nam War. He placed the cost at about $12 billion annually and said the Defense Department has asked for only $2.7 billion.

Hit By Lightning Oil Terminal At Flint Blows Up

FLINT (UPI) — Lightning struck a storage tank at the Marathon Oil Co. terminal here, causing an explosion that tore the top off the tank and sent flames spiraling into the sky.

There were no injuries.

George Struble, a Marathon spokesman, said the tank was isolated and there was no apparent danger that it would spread to other nearby tanks.

The scene of the explosion and fire was Dort Highway and Coldwater road just west of Flint.

Hit by the lightning was a slot tank containing 21,000 gallons of fuel in a 10,000-barrel tank. The fuel was a mixture of gas and oil as it came out of the pipeline.

Rapid River Is Planning Strip For Air Traffic

Rapid River is planning an air strip as an aid to development of that area at the head of Little Bay de Noc as a tourist and resort area.

The availability of a site well adapted to creation of a strip south of Rapid River on Shipman's Point (also called Dowsey's Point), has stimulated interest in the project, says Harry Buchman, Rapid River merchant and a leader in the venture.

At present travelers by air to the Rapid River area, which is a famed crossroads of the Upper Peninsula with Highways U.S. 41 and U.S. 2 meeting there, have their nearest landing fields at Escanaba, 15 miles to the southwest, and Manistique, 35 miles to the east.

Buchman said that the Shipman's Point property is owned by the Rapid River Land & Power Co., organized 50 years or more ago and now defunct. Part of its land was used by the Collins Land & Lumber Co. and Herry Madden Shingle Co., which also are gone.

The property came off the tax role because it was being used by the public as a fishing site, and now is back on the tax roll with members of the Rapid River Land & Power Co. carrying the tax load. They hope, said Buchman, to get the heirs of the original owners to assign their equities in the property so that the land may be conveyed to Masonville Township.

"We may have to go to court and have an administration named to clear the title," said Buchman.

The site would allow the construction of an air strip 4,000 feet in length, said Buchman, and the high ground and its gravel character both favor such construction. "There is no drainage problem," he said.

The project sponsors hope that a development project can make it eligible for state and federal aid in the construction of emergency landing strips and small airports, so that private fliers could land in the heart of the famed recreation area. The Rapid River Chamber of Commerce operates a boat launching facility on the west side of Shipman's Point.

Blinker Scans Earth In Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — America's new Geos 1 blinking beacon satellite whirled around the globe today using the pull of Earth's gravity to slowly aim its flashing lights and laser beam reflectors toward ground stations.

Once the 385-pound "winking star" has settled down in orbit, scientists will begin using it as a precise reference point in space to map the Earth and steady its peculiarities.

The explorer satellite, shaped like a child's top, was rocketed into orbit Saturday by a new model of the Delta workhorse rocket. It was the 30th success in 34 launchings for the booster.

The Federal Space Agency said the path of Geos 1, ranging from 692 to 11414 miles above Earth, was 412 miles higher than planned at its peak point. But they said the deviation was only expected to be a "minor annoyance."

Mapmakers hope to use precise measurements from Geos 1 and its successors to more accurately survey Earth's continents and islands. And Geos 1 is expected to tell scientists more about the shape of Earth, its gravity and the make-up of its crust and core.

Highway Office Not In Shuffle, Kelley Decides

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley ruled today the Legislature through the Executive Reorganization Act had the power to abolish some former commissions but did not have authority to tamper with the State Highway Commission.

In an opinion written at the request of Gov. George Romney, Kelley said the new act "repealed by implication" former commissions on agriculture, conservation and corrections by setting up new ones; but that the act could not do the same thing with the Highway Commission.

Although the Reorganization Act, which shuffled state government into 19 principal departments, did not actually repeal the three commissions, Kelley said the 1965 statute would supercede acts already in effect.

The five-member Agriculture Commission and the seven-member Conservation Commission were created in 1921; while the six-member Corrections Commission was established in 1953. The Reorganization Act created five-member commission to head up each of the three departments.

But Kelley ruled the four-member Highway Commission, set up in the 1963 constitution, could not be abolished and re-created in the same manner.

"Through enactment of...the Executive Organization Act of 1965, the Legislature did not intend, as it could not, to abolish the present office of member of the State Highway Commission and to create a new office of member of the State Highway Commission, subject to appointment by the governor in accordance with the provisions of that act," Kelley said.

Kelley said the Legislature's intent was merely to restate a law passed in 1964 setting up the terms of office of State Highway Commission members and that Romney could not appoint new members under the 1965 act except to fill vacancies as provided by law.

Gladstone Meet Thursday

Republicans Set Party Training

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Neiman have returned from a Republican Leadership Training Seminar at Lansing with plans for an active training program in Delta County for party leadership.

Neiman is Delta County Republican chairman.

The sessions were held at the Jack Tar Hotel in Lansing last week and speakers from across the nation spoke on labor, city, Negro and rural organization.

The need to motivate workers in the party was stressed to get large numbers of persons to do a little bit each for the conservative cause in government, said Neiman.

Basic objectives, he said, are to locate the known Republican voters, to register them and see that they get to the polls. "We are going to try and build up a Welcome Wagon type of approach, whether they're Republicans or Democrats or Independents."

Ottawa County spokesmen told of the effectiveness of their telephone campaign in the 1964 election. Berrien County reported on the success of its township clubs.

Work with youth will be stressed in the campaign, which will strengthen the party's efforts for the 1966 elections, Neiman said.

An Agricultural Council is being organized by the Republicans of Michigan, with each county to have two representatives. The Council will stress the importance of the farmer vote and of the agricultural economy.

A task force of Michigan Republican women leaders will visit Delta County in an Upper Peninsula tour on Thursday, and will greet Republican women and young people at Katy's Dinette in Gladstone at 7:30 p.m. All interested persons are invited, said Mrs. Neiman.

Mrs. Ruth Hobbs of Ann Arbor, president-elect of the Michigan Republican Women's Federation, will head the group. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Jones, second vice-president elect, and Mrs. Charles Haynes, fourth vice president elect. Mrs. Carl Olson of Gladstone, vice chairman of the Delta County Republican Committee, will be in charge.

The task force started its U.P. tour today in Chippewa, Luce and Schoolcraft counties.

Student Quality

BIG RAPIDS — Ferris State College students Friday completed an unprecedented solicitation campaign among the college residence halls which raised more than $4,000 for the Mecosta County United Fund. The idea stemmed from student leaders who wanted to point out that the few students on college campuses who riot and burn draft cards are not representative of the many who are devoted to their educations and constructive social concerns.

Car Negligence Trial Begins

Testimony began today before Judge Bernard H. Davidson in Circuit Court in the jury trial of an auto negligence suit stemming from an automobile accident in north Escanaba in which Worthley Magnuson was killed.

Oscar O. Pascal, administrator for the Magnuson estate, is asking $50,000 damages from James Lionel Peltier, 21, of Detroit.

The accident happened on Aug. 1, 1964, at the intersection of Sheridan Rd. and N. 11th St. in Escanaba.

A jury of five men and seven women was chosen to hear the case.

Clair Hoehn, attorney for the plaintiff, called three witnesses to the stand, including defendant Peltier as a "hostile" first witness.

Peltier testified the accident happened at 10:21 p.m. while he was driving north on Sheridan Rd. "about 30 miles per hour." He said the Magnuson car made a left turn into his path.

Also called were Kenneth Buckland, president of Northern Michigan Engineers, Inc., of Escanaba, to testify to the accuracy of a scale drawing of the scene, and Mrs. Worthley Magnuson.

Attorney for the defendent is James Fitzharris.

Car Accidents Injure Three

Three persons were injured, none seriously, in two traffic accidents in Escanaba over the weekend, it is reported by Escanaba police.

Sandra Lee Inskeep, 18, of Escanaba Rte. 1, was injured when the car she was driving jumped the curb and struck and uprooted a tree in the 300 block, S. 23rd St., at 3:55 a.m. today. The car is owned by Harold E. Johnson of Escanaba Rte. 1.

Police ticketed the driver for violation of the basic speed law, driving too fast for conditions.

Arlene C. Moore of 2005 5th Ave. N., and a passenger in the car she was driving, Cheryl Moore, 18, of the same address, were injured in an accident in the 2400 block Ludington St. at 11:35 p.m. Saturday.

The other car involved in the collision was driven by George W. Davis of Powers, who was ticketed for failing to exercise due care.

No Points Given In Gridiron Dash

DECATUR, Ala. (UPI) — Willie Jones dashed 100 yards at a high school football game here but scored only a big zero.

Police said Jones, 22, commandeered a $10,000 ambulance and road down the length of the field. He crossed the goal line at 70 m.p.h., smashed into a parked car, ripped down a chain link fence and careened across a four-lane highway before coming to a halt.

Autopsy On Pensions

Escanaba electors voted last Tuesday on a proposal to increase the pension benefits for city policemen and firemen under Public Act 345, which sets up a special pension system for men in those services.

Escanaba policemen and firemen are now pensioned under the Michigan Municipal Employe Retirement Act, like other Escanaba city employes. Firemen and policemen do not get retirement pensions as large as those of other city employes, because their state organizations prefer their own pension system, and oppose Social Security. It is Social Security payments after age 62 which make the retirement pay of other city employes larger than that of policemen and firemen under MERA.

Escanaba has 7,700 registered voters but only 2,315 of them—less than a third,—turned out to vote on the pension change. It won by 43 votes. A change of 22 votes would have defeated it.

The voters solved the pension problems of the policemen and firemen by their action, but they set up a problem for the other city employes, who will no doubt ask equal treatment, and for the city government and the taxpayers who support it.

If the policemen and firemen had accepted Social Security as a part of their pension plan like other city employes, the cost to the city would have risen only from the present 9.75 per cent of payroll to 10.6 per cent of payroll like that of other employes. The employe contribution to the pension plan by firemen and policemen is 5 per cent, while other city employes contribute 6.61 per cent of payroll, under the present system.

It will cost the city $22,700 a year extra, city council has been informed, or 18.5 per cent of payroll, to pay the increased pensions to firemen and policemen.

The Michigan Legislature in the last session removed the $4,000 a year limit from the firemen's and policemen's pensions under Act 345. The result will be that pensioners averagely are expected to get 58 per cent of their pay after retirement. They will get a base pension of half pay plus one per cent a year additional for the years worked after eligibility.

Averagely a worker is expected to start employment at 25. He is eligible for retirement at age 55 after 30 years. He gets a pension figured at 2 percent of his pay for the first 25 years, or 50 per cent of his pay on retirement, plus one per cent a year for the years worked after his 25 year base period. Thus a worker who puts in 33 years and retires at age 58 instead of age 55 would get 58 per cent of his pay rate in a pension.

This system will bring one Escanaba fireman a pension of 68 per cent of salary, or $4,754 a year, on retirement.

The city government has another problem in this pension action. In July, 1967 a new Michigan state law will set up firemen's work schedule for one day out of three. A fireman will, for instance, work Monday, Thursday and Sunday in one week, Wednesday and Saturday in the next week, etc.

The holes created in fire department staffing by this law may require the hiring of four extra firemen. This would add $25,000 a year to the city's budget.

This year the police and fire departments will cost the city $333,000. The city tax levy on all property is only $404,000 so these two services eat up most of all the money paid by property owners in taxes. Adding the $22,700 for extra pension costs and the $25,000 for four more firemen would make a total prospective expense for police and fire departments of $380,700. That's all but $13,300 of the entire city tax levy and there's no prospect that the tax income will suddenly increase substantially. All but 5 per cent of the city's tax income would go for police and fire service.

This is not out of line with similar services in our neighboring cities, but it is a reminder of the size of the costs of these services to the taxpayers. These are both housekeeping services, and while vital to municipal security, are not capital investments in the growth of the community, which must come from the city's other sources of revenue, its utility earnings and state aids.

The Doctor Says:

Sleep With Eyes Half Open

By Dr Wayne G. Brandstadt

A mother writes that her 9-year-old daughter has for several years slept with her eyes half open. This is not an uncommon observation. If the child can close her eyes without difficulty when she is awake there is nothing to worry about. The growth of her eyelids has not yet caught up with that of her eyeballs and she will outgrow it.

If a toxic goiter is present the eyes will protrude day and night and, if this is the case, the child wil need medical attention. In most children who sleep with their eyes partially open the eyeballs roll upward so that only the whites are visible, but if any of the iris is exposed an ointment or eye drops should be prescribed for use at bedtime.

Q— In your column about agammaglobulinemia you stated that it may be transmitted by the mother but is seen only in boys. My little girl had this condition and took shots of gamma globulin for a year. How do you explain this?

A— In agammaglobulinemia, which occurs only in boys, there is a complete absence of gamma globulin in the blood. Occasionally girls of preschool age have a gamma globulin deficiency — not a complete absence. If they get frequent infections, injections of gamma globulin are given for a short time. By the time these girls are ready for school their gamma globulin production is usually normal.

Q — Our 3-year old son can lift neither his head nor his limbs. His speech and intelligence are normal for his age. Our doctor says he has amyotonia congenita. What causes it and what is the treatment?

A—Since your son's disease is inherited as a recessive (as opposed to dominant) characteristic, the determinant genes must have been present in both you and your husband. Unfortunately there is no treatment for this disease and far too many frantic parents spend their life savings dashing from clinic to clinic in search of a cure. This leads to disappointment and bankruptcy.

Most children who have this diseases die in their first year. Those who survive beyond one year usually show some improvement but never achieve much muscular strength.

Q—My 8-year-old daughter has a double-jointed knee and falls a lot. What can be done for her?

A —— She should wear a brace. If for any reason this is not feasible she will have to have an operation to fuse her knee joint so that it will not bend at all.

"We Take Care of Our Own" is the motto of the Air Force's unique Family Service program. Each of the 64 active volunteers strives to uphold this motto in their participation in the K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base organization.

Dependent's Assistance was the name given to the program when it was first organized in 1952 on a trial basis in Strategic Air Command's Eighth Air Force.

During that year the wives of assigned personnel set up orientation courses, welcomed newcomers to their respective bases, handled emergencies in the families, and performed office work in the Dependents Assistance center.

After the trial program within 8th AF proved one of the most effective tools available to commanders for resolving morale problems, the first regulations were printed on April 23, 1954.

In the years that have followed, many of the other major commands have organized programs of various types. In 1958 the new manual was published and at that time the name was changed to Family Services.

"The Sawyer program is set up to assist in emergencies and hardships that occur in the homes of our assigned personnel. We also do our utmost to ease the many problems that present themselves when a new family arrives here," stated 1st Lt. Dexter S. Graybeal, Family Service officer.

The program is staffed by dependent volunteers, the wives of the airmen and officers assigned to Sawyer. The program is supervised by a military staff consisting of Lt. Graybeal, S-Sgt. Charles Young, A1C Ward Vandenberg and A2C Tom Sholly. The coordinator is Mrs. James H. Davis and serving as assistant coordinator is Mrs. Lloyd Ward.

Four active committees make up the organization. These are the emergency and casualty services, welcoming, publicity and office committee.

Each of the volunteers has completed a Family Service orientation course within the past three years and has had specialized training for each committee on which she serves.

Members of the emergency and casualty services committee provide assistance to families on a 24 hour stand-by basis when, and if, an unexpected emergency, illness or accident interrupts the normal family routine. These volunteers are only asked to step in and "lend a hand" by the Family Services officer after the case has been brought to his attention and verified by the coordinator or her assistant.

One of the committee's volunteers will give freely of her time whether it be caring for your youngsters or providing emergency transportation. "However, this help can only be given until other arrangements can be made or until a member of your family arrives," said Mrs. William Partee, committee chairman.

Newly assigned personnel are welcomed to Sawyer soon after they move into their quarters by a member of the welcoming committee. The housing area has been divided between the committee's 13 members so that each will visit new neighbors in her own area. The volunteers present each new family with a kit containing information about the base and the surrounding communities.

Upon request, the volunteer can provide the family with a copy of the "Children Have A Potential" (CHAP) pamphlet that has been prepared to help the family of a physically or mentally handicapped child in securing information concerning the medical and educational facilities available in this area.

Office committee volunteers headed by Mrs. Walter Harwell, devote a portion of a specific day or days each month to working in the center. The center is located at Voodoo and Stratofort and the Family Services loan closet is maintained there.

The office volunteer is responsible for checking out of those necessary household items such as roll-a-way beds, cribs, dishes, cooking utensils, irons, and ironing boards to incoming and outgoing personnel only.

Also maintained at the center is a listing of off-base rentals which proves helpful to many newcomers.

Several other files are kept at the center for the use and information of assigned personnel. These include the base brochure file, where information concerning nearly every stateside and overseas Air Force base can be found.

There is also an employment file with the names of those wishing to do baby-sitting, ironing, housework and yardwork available.

Members of the publicity committee, under the direction of the new chairman, Mrs. David Jones, strive to keep the military personnel and their dependents aware of the services offered by the program and of its many activities.

PUBLICITY IS necessary in a program like Family Services and Mrs. Lewis Drew goes over some of the posters used to inform Sawyer AF Base personnel concerning the last orientation course. (USAF Photo)

All Not Smooth

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — At a recent Republican meeting on Mackinac Island, Mich., Rhode Island Gov. John Chafee departed for home before his colleague, Gov. John Love of Colorado arrived. Chafee left a message for him:

"Tell John I used the butter story."

Weeks later, speaking in Washington, Love asked whether Chafee had preceded him this time and had used the "butter story." The answer was no, so Love launched into it.

He attended a dinner where the main course did not appeal to him, so he decided to make do with rolls, butter and a glass of milk. Quickly he used up his butter supply, and asked the waitress for more.

"No," she said.

"Why can't I have more?" Love asked.

"It's against the rules here," she answered.

The governor grew annoyed. "Do you know who I am?" he inquired.

When she said no, he said: "I'm the governor of Colorado."

Undaunted, the waitress shot back: "Do you know who I am?"

When the startled Love said no, she announced:

"I'm the keeper of the butter!"

In his days as a Rhodes scholar at Oxford University, Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach was noted as a goalie on the university's hockey team. The 6-foot-2, 215-pounder has been taking a good-natured ribbing about this from his friends ever since.

"There have been several theories as to why he played goalie," said one recently. "The ice then was just as thin as it is today and, of course, his bulk came in handy for blocking shots.

"But a classmate of his told me the real reason: Nick just couldn't skate fast enough to play anything else."

He took a look at his badge and discovered that a convention clerk had typed out: "Bud Wilkinson, Lifetime Sport."

In his richest vein as a kind of broken-down Shakespearean actor, Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois paid tribute to Lawrence O'Brien at a press party for the in-bound postmaster general.

Making clear he wants some commemorative stamps and some new post offices for Illinois, the organ-toned Dirksen indicated he'd be pretty shameless in his approach:

"Lawrence, I'll fawn on you, I'll coddle you. I'll genuflect, because, frankly, I need a lot of bricks and mortar out there . . .

"I love you. I worship you as a brother—because you're the postmaster general!"

25 YEARS AGO

Some sidelights from the voting in Escanaba on Tuesday:

One lad who patrolled a beat near the No. 3 polling booth at the city hall had his politics somewhat mixed. He exhibited a Roosevelt button prominently on his coat lapel and carried a placard against "Roosevelt's War", proclaiming that "Mother wants me home for Christmas."

Then there was the drunk at the No. 1 polling booth at the public library. He helped delay election machinery in midmorning by causing trouble over his name. "In Wisconsin," he proclaimed, "they call me 'R. W.' but in Michigan they just call me 'Bob'." Election judges okayed him as a voter, but he still continued his disclaiming. They finally got him out.

50 YEARS AGO

Excellent progress is being made in preparing for the presentation to the Escanaba public of the drama, "Deep Purple," under the auspices of the Charity Committee of the Escanaba Woman's Club. The members of a most capable cast are being drilled daily under the direction of A. Courtney White.

Don't attend the Delft Theatre today unless you are looking for a photo play superior to anything you have seen in months. In presenting Lenore Ulrich (star in "The Bird of Paradise") in "Kilmeny" the Delft offers for today one of the greatest triumphs in picture making.

Twin Beds End Violent Dreams

Dear Ann Landers: I was struck by the letter from the woman whose husband had life-like dreams and limped around all day after dreaming he had injured his foot. To those who haven't had first-hand experience the letter probably sounded funny.

But it isn't funny, Ann. My father had life-like dreams and for years mother put up with a series of strange experiences which resulted in many sleepless nights.

One night Dad dreamed he was in a supermarket. He got out of bed, grabbed the chair by the wooden arms, pushed it around the room, collected the alarm clock, books and magazines from the bedside table and the framed pictures from the dresser. He even took money from his wallet to pay for the "purchases".

Dad has kicked himself out of bed playing football and pulled down the drapes while blocking a pass. Once he injured his hand striking an imaginary intruder. (He hit the wall.) The day he hit mother was the day she ordered twin beds. Strangely enough he hasn't done much real-life dreaming since. Maybe this could be the solution for the wife who wrote to you. Please pass it on. — LIZ

Dear Liz: The experts tell us that dreams are often triggered by a noise or because one person's sleep is disturbed by his partner. The fact that twin beds helped solve your mother's problem supports this theory. Consider the word passed — and I hope it helps.

Dear Ann Landers: What do you think of a boss's wife who volunteers to do club work and then hands the job over to her husband's secretary?

I have served on numerous committees as a volunteer. I've written hundreds of letters on my own typewriter, and used my own stationery and stamps. I've made dozens of telephone calls on my own time because I wanted to make a personal contribution to the cause I believe in.

Don't you feel it is fraudulent to accept a job and then turn it over to someone else?—HORSE BEHIND THE SCENE

Dear Horse: Are you doing Madam's club work on your boss's time? If so, (and nothing in your letter indicates otherwise) your complaint is not justifiable. Mrs. Doe makes a contribution by volunteering to do a job even though her husband is paying to get it done. Obviously, Mrs. Doe will not experience the satisfaction of doing it herself but presumably this does not matter to her.

My folks know about this and have told me to make my own decision. I need your help. —SAILOR AT SEA IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE.

Burglars Kill Police Guard At Kalamazoo Plant

KALAMAZOO (UPI)—A private policeman was shot and killed early today when he apparently surprised a safecracker at work at the Lake Street Lumber Co.

Jack Merrill McMullen, 38, Kalamazoo, was employed by the Nikitas Patrol Service and was making a routine check of the lumber company when he was shot at least five times in the face and body.

Police said the body was discovered about 3:3 a.m. by William G. Nikitas, the owner of the private service, after he was alerted McMullen had failed to report after checking the lumber company.

The burglar was apparently working on a safe at the time he was surprised by the victim. Authorities said the safe had been partially peeled, but that nothing was taken from the office.

Caskets Stacked For Months In Cemetery Shed

DETROIT (UPI) — Caskets containing the bodies of more than 200 persons, including 35 babies, were stacked as long as five months in a shed before being buried in unmarked graves in Brookdale Memorial Park Cemetery, a former superintendent of the cemetery testified.

Harvey Grode, the former superintendent, told the State Senate Corporations Committee the caskets were stacked to the ceiling in the shed, which also contained the offices of the Livonia cemetery.

The committee, headed by Sen. Raymond D. Dzendzel, D-Detroit, is investigating the operation of the cemetery following scores of complaints that relatives of those buried there could not find the graves of loved ones.

Grode said he was a part-time gravedigger at the cemetery before becoming superintendent last March.

He said some of the caskets had been battered and broken before being buried. His testimony so moved two women spectators that they ran from the hearing room in tears. One of them shouted, "It's a disgrace."

At one time during the hearing, Gorde, 41, said he buried the bodies of 35 babies in three communal graves. He said some graves in the cemetery had as many as 18 children in them and they were stacked one on top of another.

Grode said that in some instances, the cemetery used a "dummy setup" to fool relatives. A casket would be lowered into a wooden frame built above the ground and covered with greenery. When the grieving relatives left, the casket would be pulled up and stacked in the shed.

Grode said that when he became superintendent in March, he buried 187 adults and 35 babies. He said some of the caskets were dated from the previous October and many were in bad shape. Many of the caskets had handles broken off and one was so bad that Grode said he had to "cover the top with artificial grass and strap it together before I put it in the ground."

At least 15 of the caskets had no identification, he said. He said that in January, before he became superintendent, the shed was jammed with about 400 caskets. He said his predecessor had quit because he had 14 more funerals coming in the next day and no more room in the shed.

The cemetery has been involved in a legal battle over ownership since 1952. It has been under receivership in the court of Circuit Judge Joseph G. Rashid since 1958.

Governors See Vietnam Action

ABOARD THE USS TICONDEROGA (UPI) — Eight U.S. governors watched from the windswept bridge aboard this carrier Sunday as American fighters roared off the deck on missions against the Communist Viet Cong.

The governors clambered up to an open deck high in the carrier's superstructure and clapped on noise suppressing ear protectors as the first jet thundered away with Cmdr. C. Roy Smith of Florence, S.C., at the controls.

The governors were so enthralled they were still perched in the superstructure an hour and 42 minutes later when Smith's A4 Skyhawk slammed back down on the deck with its bomb racks empty.

Smith said he had flown 100 miles west of the carrier to South Viet Nam and followed an Air Force spotter plane down a canal to his target.

The governors flew out to the Ticonderoga aboard twin engine "COD" transports after donning orange life vests in Saigon for the overwater flight.

Govs. Philip H. Hoff of Vermont and John Chaffee of Rhode Island remained in Saigon. The Ticonderoga party was made up of Govs. George Romney of Michigan, John H. Reed of Maine, Carl E. Sanders of Georgia, Harold E. Hughes of Iowa, Tim M. Babcock of Montana, Clifford P. Hansen of Wyoming, Henry Bellmon of Oklahoma and John A. Burns of Hawaii.

Onion In Potato Adds To Taste

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Folks:

Sometime ago, a sweet woman wrote and suggested that I cut a big baking potato in half, and insert a large, thick slice from a cooking onion between the halfs before wrapping it in foil and baking it.

It's out on cloud nine again! (I wish we lived there, don't you?)

I cut my big slice of onion nearly a half inch thick, but you can slice yours thinner if you like.

I also learned to salt and pepper both cut halves of the potato before baking it.

One day I used garlic salt in place of the salt and pepper, and it was a knockout, too, but be sure to serve this only on weekends, if you don't want your husband going to work with garlic breath next day!

When this onion-potato is served, cut through the foil and all with a big X, and either mash it a little bit or use a fork to break up the center, so your butter or sour cream will go down into the spud.

The aroma and taste is out of this world. Why not give this a whirl some day when you are in the potato baking mood?

Letter Of Laughter

Dear Heloise:

Why do they put such adorable decorations on the bottoms of baby dishes?

It may be an incentive to an older child to "clean your plate so you can see the bunny," but a baby (at least my baby) simply hasn't that much patience or understanding, and at every meal, she immediately sets to work and diligently removes the contents of the dish by the handfuls, to get to the design!

She presented Mrs. Gladys Berg and Mrs. Patricia Micklow, students at N.M.U., who related their experiences on a recent study tour in Europe. Mrs. Berg attended a 6 weeks course at the University of Uppsala in Sweden. Mrs. Micklow showed slides of the group's tour in Holland, France and Spain.

Escanaba teachers attending the meeting were Anona Anderson, Esther Carlson, Eva Flemstrom, Ruth Hebbard and Marie Jacobsen.

Intruder Gets Beaten Up With His Own Hammer

DETROIT (UPI)—An intruder broke into a home Friday and attacked a young woman, but he came out second best.

Arlene M. Necker, 28, Nankin Township, said she awoke at 3 a.m. and found a man standing beside her bed. He hit her in the head several times with a hammer.

She screamed and fought. He dropped the hammer and ran.

As he sought frantically to unbolt the dront door and flee, she grabbed the hammer and began beating him about the head. The intruder tore through a latched screen door and fled.

Miss Necker was treated for cuts and bruises.

Police searched for a young, slim and blond man, somewhat battered.

Pressures For Repeal Grow

Wisconsin Oleo Tax Hit

Are the signs in Menominee supermarkets: "Last Chance To Buy Oleo" and "Ole For Sale by the Case" to go?

Menominee is one of the border points where Wisconsin motorists put a few cases of colored oleo in their cars for the trip back home, where it's under a heavy tax to discourage its sale as a butter substitute.

But Wisconsin, which has been a national leader in dairying and trying to market its big milk surplus out of state and find wider markets for its dairy products, is facing a growing clamor for repeal of the oleo tax. The tax, discriminating against the states which make the vegetable oils used in oleo, is causing discrimination against Wisconsin dairy products in other states.

Ban Called Error

Wisconsin is being urged by its women clubs and other non-industry agencies of public information to enlarge its market for Wisconsin dairy products by ceasing its discrimination against oleo.

In Madison, Wis., recently discussion of dairy substitutes raging in the legislature spilled across Capitol Square to the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Council of Agricultural Co-operatives.

One professor told the group that the dairy industry's position on oleomargarine was selfish, endangering public relations and doomed to defeat. Another professor said butter could beat out margarine in the market place.

Throughout the conference, the theme was the rising importance of the consumer and the need for stronger bargaining co-operatives.

D. N. McDowell, state director of agriculture, called the consumer "the quarterback" in a symbolic football team with the farmers in the front line and agricultural businesses in the backfield.

Little Appreciation

"You are dealing with a growing population of consumers and voters living in large urban complexes, one piled on top of another as cliff dwellers, who little understand or appreciate what agriculture is or what it does," declared Prof. Scott Cutlip of the University of Wisconsin Journalism Departemnt.

"You may win the battle in your selfish defense of laws that discriminate against the user of oleomargarine, but you will surely lose this war," Cutler said.

Cutlip preferred butter, but resented being denied a free choice. He said farmers did themselves and their communities a disservice by defending the present margarine law (which bans color and exacts a 15c a pound tax on the uncolored product).

Promotion Urged

In the meeting's dairy section, Prof. Samuel Coulter of the University of Minnesota economics staff said the dairy industry need not be pessimistic about butter, but must devote its energies to its promotion.

Canneries and bakeries don't advertise the inclusion of margarine in their packaged foods, they stress butter, Coulter said. He said the surface had only been scratched in such items as frozen foods with butter sauce that are boiled in a bag.

The butter industry should be stimulating the use of more butter this way and supplying processors with recipes, said Coulter.

Favored US Payments

Overriding the objections of the vice-chairman of its resolutions committee, and reversing its position of last year, the Council called for government payment to farmers producing milk for butter.

The plan, to be operated through butter plants, would allow lower retail butter prices, yet maintain farmers' income, it was explained.

The council's resolution passed by a slight majority in a voice vote, said such payments would compensate farmers for the damage done by legislation favoring competing products.

In another action, at the close of the annual meeting, delegates asked for an economic study of the impact of butter substitutes on the Wisconsin economy.

The stand on subsidies came after Russell O'Harrow, Oconto Falls, a state Farm Bureau director and committee vice-chairman, warned that this was not a solution to the income problem.

O'Harrow said butter's best sales pitch was its prestige.

Want To Join Lard?

"We have the high priced spread," O'Harrow said. "Will we join lard, now a cheap forgotten shortening? Can we win the price war when substitutes can be sold for 10 to 11c a pound with a profit to the manufacturer?

O'Harrow noted that Land o' Lakes Creameries had increased its sales 106 per cent in 10 years. An economist for that organization, Gordon Sprague, Minneapolis, conceded the point, but defended the subsidy as payment for "a market loss in the legalized invasion of yellow oleo in 1950" (when the federal ban on oleo coloring was lifted).

Despite pouring more and more money into advertising, the surplus is as great as it was 15 years ago, and there has been a five pound per capita drop in butter consumption, said Sprague.

He said Canada's per capita use jumped half a pound in 1956, when a 12c a pound cut was made in retail prices, with the help of a subsidy.

Repeal

MADISON, Wis.—The 15 cent a pound tax on uncolored oleomargarine would be repealed under a bill approved by the assembly Nov. 4.

It was the first oleo bill to clear either house in a session highlighting the state's ban, the last in the country, against the sale of colored margarine.

The vote was 65 to 30. The bill now goes to the senate, where its fate is uncertain. Similar bills have passed the assembly in previous sessions but have died in the senate.

After the bill passed, assemblymen again refused to suspend the rules to bring to the floor a bill to allow the sale of colored oleo.

Earlier the assembly had refused to take up colored oleo bills, one of which would have put the question to a referendum.

Districts Plan K-12 Schooling

RUDYARD — Residents of the eastern Upper Peninsula have been invited to a hearing here Wednesday to plan a set of six districts which will provide kindergarten through 12th grade education for every child in the area.

Richard Speicher, superintendent of the district—which embraces three counties, and possibly part of a fourth, and covers 3,500 square miles in area—says that state law provides that every district in Michigan must have a K-12 (kindergarten to 12th) plan in the hopper by Dec. 31, 1965.

In all instances schools in the major three-county district having kindergarten through 12th systems will be joined by neighboring districts not having the full school program.

The broad eastern Upper Peninsula intermediate school district embraces Chippewa, Luce and Mackinac counties. The district includes five islands, Sugar, Neebish and Drummond in the St. Mary's River; historic Mackinac Island and Bois Blanc Island in Lake Huron. In addition, the district wants Seney Township in Schoolcraft County as children there go to Newberry schools.

There are 10 areas in the district which have K-12 schools and 18 which offer only sixth to 8th grades.

The smallest district offering K-12 is the Whitefish Township School at Paradise. This system only has 81 pupils, but if they were to join another school system they would have a 140 mile round trip bus ride every day back and forth from Newberry 70 miles away.

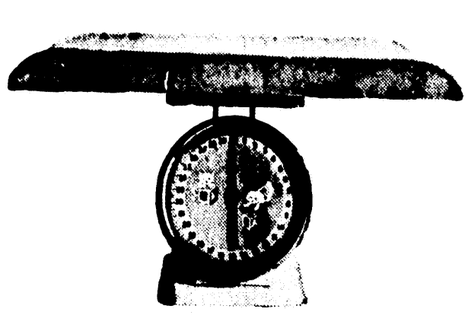
BOOM!



Everything's booming here in Michigan—business, industry and babies. And that means increased needs for telephone service—today and in the years to come.

More and better telephone service to meet these growing needs requires additional telephone cable and lots of new telephone equipment. The equipment has to be housed. This sometimes means new buildings and building additions. In the next three years, Michigan Bell plans to spend over $300 million to keep up with the demands of Michigan's increasing business, industry and population.

Like Michigan, your telephone company is growing. And as it grows, Michigan Bell will continue to bring you telephone service that is high in value—low in cost.

Need Permits For Yule Trees

With Michigan's $5½ million Christmas tree harvest gaining momentum this month, persons cutting and shipping trees and greens are reminded that a bill of sale is required for all trees and boughs in transit, according to Norman Remington, Escanaba, plant inspector with the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Approved forms for shipment of trees and green are available through Remington's office in Escanaba and at offices of county agricultural extension directors, the Michigan Department of Conservation, the Michigan State Police, and local sheriffs.

The Christmas Greens Law was enacted in 1962 to deter shipment of illegally harvested evergreens. Remington said that it applies to shipment of even single trees throughout the year, with exception of the period between Nov. 30 and Dec. 31. During December, he said, up to two trees per person may be transported without the permit.

Other laws apply to trees with roots attached, according to Remington. Plants with roots are considered nursery stock, and a nursery inspection must have been made prior to movement. This is to prevent spread of serious plant pests and diseases.

Remington is a college trained plant specialist with the plant industry division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. In addition to enforcement of the Christmas Green Law, his work involves inspections to assure the public of disease-free sources of trees and plants, as well as protection of Michigan's state tree, the white pine, from the damaging blister rust.

Newest Cabinet Department Still Lacking A Boss

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Department of Housing and Urban Development, the voice of America's 140 million city-dwellers in the President's cabinet, comes into existence Tuesday—still without a head.

President Johnson says he's not going to appoint a secretary until next year. He's reported to be particularly anxious to get the new department off to the best possible start as "a focal point for thought and innovation and imagination about the problems of our cities."

After attending both the Suomi Junior College and Seminary, he was ordained upon a call from the consistory of the Suomi Synod to serve a flying home missionary in the area of Wing, North Dakota.

This assignment was followed by four years in the Air Force as a chaplain services specialist. Upon separation he ministered to a parish in Peabody-Rockport area in Massachusetts, Pastor Rankinen earned a masters degree in religious education.

Dennis Swanson Enrolls At Stout

MENOMONIE, Wis. — Dennis Swanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Swanson, 208 S. 18th St., Escanaba, is enrolled for the fall semester at Stout State University here.

With an enrollment of close to 2,900, Stout marks a 21 per cent increase over last year. This total includes both graduate and under-graduate students.

Job Camp Set For U.P. Forest

IRONWOOD — Michigan's second Job Corps Center—the first in the Upper Peninsula—will open Nov. 15 at Ojibway, near Marenisco in Gogebic County.

Plans call for bringing 224 boys to Gogebic County from all parts of the United States. Doubt was expressed by the U.S. Forest Service, administering the Ottawa National Forest, if any local youths will be involved, since most are sent 200 miles or more from their homes under the Job Corps program.

Ojibway will have four dormitories, each housing 56 boys, in addition to an education building, kitchen and dining area, office, two warehouses, and a machine and woodworking shop. A temporary gymnasium will be constructed until a larger permanent structure can be built to provide indoor recreation facilities.

Plans have been made to take the youths by bus to neighboring communities, such as Ironwood, Bessemer and Wakefield, to participate in dances, ball games and other social events.

Emergency Aid Meeting Nov. 10

Les Bollwahn, state rural defense specialist from Michigan State University, will present a discussion on natural and man-made disasters at the Upper Peninsula Experiment Station at Chatham at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 10.

Several barns were blown down by a "twister" near Sundell on May 7, 1964; a blizzard closed old M-94 east of Munising; a land-slide isolated Sand Point residents in 1961; fire destroyed one building with seven apartments.

What to do when the power goes out and how to call for help in case of emergency will be told by Bollwahn.

Esky Player Named To All-U.P. Grid Team

Steve Oman Repeater; Haack, Brawley Land Second Team Berths

By RAY CRANDALL
(Press Sports Editor)

DOLLAR BAY — Steve Oman, veteran Escanaba High School guard, was named to a first team berth on the All-Upper Peninsula football selections made by members of the U.P. Sportswriters Association at their annual fall meeting here Saturday.

Oman was the only repeater on the first team as the 6 foot, 215 pound senior earned his second berth on the Upper Peninsula honor squad.

The Eskymo star made it this year in spite of crippling injuries that slowed him in the early games of the season and hampered his play again in the middle of the campaign. A great blocker on offense and a standout tackle on defense, Oman has had feelers from two Big Ten schools in addition to a number of smaller colleges.

Only two other Escanaba area players received top recognition from the region's scribes, and both were selected to second team berths.

Bob Haack of Escanaba made it as a halfback and tall Tom Brawley of Manistique as an end on the second team.

Haack, a 5 foot 10 inch, 153 pound senior, carries impressive credentials for All-U.P. recognition. He made the Great Northern all-conference which was selected by coaches, after leading his Eskymo team in rushing, scoring and pass receiving. He was named most valuable player by his mates. Haack gained 158 yards in 118 carries, caught 15 passes for 315 yards and scored six touchdowns and an extra point. He was a standout left linebacker on defense.

Steve Oman

Honorable Mentions

Brawley gave Coach Dick Bonifas a 6 foot 4 inch frame packing 206 pounds on the Emerald team. The senior flanker, like Oman hampered by injuries this season, caught 11 passes for 138 yards and two touchdowns. He was a sure blocker on offense and one of Manistique's best defensive players.

The area was heavily represented with players on the honorable mention list.

Making the list from the Eskymo squad were end Ed Gauthier, tackle Jim Hansen and halfback Ray Payment.

Honored from the Gladstone Braves were halfback Tom Stade, end Keith Apelgren, tackle Bill Potvin and quarterback Mark Goodman.

Representing Holy Name were halfback Bob Bricco, tackle John Lehouillier and guard Peter Petr.

Manistique fullback Doug Nelson also earned honorable mention.

Pierson Top Back

Writers from 14 daily and weekly newspapers singled out Kingsford's Jeff Gill, 6 foot, 175 pound tackle, as the Upper Peninsula lineman of the year. Barry Pierson, 5 foot 11 inch, 175 pound St. Ignace quarterback, was honored as the back of the year.

Pierson led his St. Ignace Saints to a perfect season by completing 77 of 119 passes for 1,011 yards and 10 touchdowns, gaining 548 yards and scoring 11 touchdowns on the ground and adding three touchdowns on punt returns.

Joining Gill and Oman in the Class A-B line were center Jon Krznarich of Ironwood, guard Jack Rumohr of Munising, tackle Mike Zimmerman of Sault Ste. Marie and ends Dennis Bal of Calumet and Jim LaRock of Iron River.

Making the first team backfield were quarterback Dane Dominici of Iron River, fullback Chris Alberti of Kingsford and halfbacks George Oikarinen of Calumet and John Argall of Negaunee.

Haack was joined in the Class A-B second team backfield by quarterback Bill Zhulkie of Ishpeming, Bob Phillips of Marquette and Jeff Sitkoski of Iron River.

Eagles Are Honored

Making the second team line were end Guy Kangas of Ironwood with Brawley, tackles Bob Tamblin of Negaunee and Tom Watson of Newberry, guards Paul Rauscher of Menominee and Louie Vlasich of Ironwood and center Bill Bailey of Kingsword.

The Class C-D selections were dominated by Crystal Falls with three players on the first team and two on the second.

Making the first team from the undefeated Trojan squad were fullback Jerry Bortolini, end Tom Davis and guard Mike Cassanova. On the second team were backs Alan Anderson and Bob Ahola.

Three players from Coach Ken Hofer's Stephenson Eagles made the second team in Class C-D. Honored were guard Bob Nerat, tackle Erv Kranberg and fullback Mickey Raboine.

Among the honorable mentions in Class C-D was Dave Smith, star quarterback on the Powers- Spalding eight-man team.

Improving UM Whips Illinois

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI) — Michigan is apparently picking up the pieces of a bad start in the Big Ten this year, and will be looking for its third straight win Saturday when it comes up against Northwestern.

The 23-3 win over Illinois last Saturday was the second win in a row for the Wolverines, and their seventh in a row over the Illini.

Illinois had been favored by three points prior to that game, but those three were all they could muster under the blistering attack and crunching defense of Michigan.

The Wolverine defense, improving as the year progresses, held Illinois to a total of 130 yards rushing Saturday. Fullback Jim Grabowski, the sure-to-be All American who has broken Red Grange's running records at Illinois, was responsible for 95 of these 130 yards. The total Wolverine yardage on the ground amounted to 306 yards.

Saturday's game was the sixth time Pete and Bump Elliott have met on a Big Ten football field, and it was the sixth time Bump won.

The two brothers have never publicly liked to discuss their competitive coaching positions though, and have always maintained it was the players that mattered.

Michigan is now 4-4 for the season after recent wins against Wisconsin and Illinois. Their chances to better that .500 percentage will come Saturday against Northwestern.

Crystal Falls Named U.P. Football Champ

DOLLAR BAY — The Crystal Falls Trojans rode a record of eight straight victories to the Upper Peninsula football throne room this fall, winning the coveted Floyd Barber trophy in the ballot of U.P. sportswriters here Saturday.

One of three unbeaten, untied teams in the Peninsula, Coach Dick Mettlach's Crystal Falls club copped the crown on the first ballot of scribes who held their annual fall meeting at the Runeberg Lodge in this community. Ironwood, St. Ignace, Kingsford, Houghton and Stambaugh were the other teams nominated for the U.P. title.

Crystal Falls ran up its perfect record against Houghton, Iron River, Stambaugh, Norway, L'Anse, Ontonagon, Baraga and Hancock, winning the Copper Country Conference championship in the process. The Trojans gained 2,140 yards rushing while holding opponents to 184 for the season. They added 590 passing, against 524 for their foes. Crystal was the top scoring team in the Peninsula with 289 points, allowing their opponents 44.

Crystal Falls is the first Class C team to win the Barber Trophy since Wakefield turned the trick in 1960. This year's unbeaten record was the third for Crystal Falls in the past 10 seasons.

The writers named Wayne Melchiori of Ironwood the Upper Peninsula Coach of the Year in a tight voting battle that required five ballots. Other mentors nominated for the honor were Ron Rubick of St. Ignace, Bill Earle of Munising, Dick Mettlach of Crystal Falls, Rae Drake of Kingsford and Wayne Sickler of Calumet.

Melchiori's Red Devils came off a 3-5 record last fall to win eight straight games this year. The Stambaugh native and former University of Michigan lineman has a career record of 43 victories, 12 defeats and 1 tie at Ironwood.

In other action the writers elected Ray Crandall of Escanaba president of the association, Dick Loranger of Houghton vice president and Gene Maki of Wakefield secretary-treasurer. The 1966 fall meeting was set for Crystal Falls.

Other writers attending the meeting were Rudy Dalpra of Crystal Falls, Aldo Andreoli of Iron Mountain Earl McQuown of Iron River, Ed McCullough of Ironwood, Andy Gauthier of L'Anse, Bill Cadeau of Marquette, Bill Pelnar of Menominee, Tom Pellow of Negaunee, Denny McPherson and Pete Williamson of Sault Ste. Marie, Ed McCarthy of Escanaba and Don Maki of Iron River.

Spartans Given Warm Welcome By Happy Fans

LANSING (UPI)—Two bright red leis, a tootin' tuba and 4,500 wildly cheering fans marked an enthusiastic victory homecoming for the Michigan State University football team Saturday night.

The No. 1 ranked Spartans, who rolled over Big Ten conference foe Iowa 35-0 for their eighth straight victory Saturday, came home with an assured tie for the conference title and an apparent ticket for a Rose Bowl appearance New Year's Day.

"This is really wonderful," said cocaptain and quarterback Steve Juday, surveying the huge crowd, "but I guess the only way we can show our appreciation for it is on Saturday afternoons."

When the door of the chartered airliner opened at Capital City Airport, a roar went up from the crowd that was contained behind fences and on the terminal roof by officers from five local police forces.

When the Spartans came home victorious from Purdue two weeks ago, the frantic fans swarmed onto the taxiway and practically crushed their heroes.

Fullback Bob Apisa and barefoot kicker Dick Kenney, both from Hawaii, came down the ramp together wearing thick, fragrant, red leis they said their high schools—Farringtonn in Honolulu and Iolani in Aeia—had sent them.

Effervescent Don Japinga, cocaptain and winner of the game ball vote of his teammates for his defensive work, bounced to the fence and began shaking hands jubilantly like a seasoned political candidate as other players hustled to waiting buses or to excited reunions with friends and families.

The Spartans go against their final conference foe, Indiana, next Saturday at East Lansing; and take on number four-ranked Notre Dame at South Bend for the season finale at South Bend, Ind., Nov. 20.

Even if the MSU squad should lose to Indiana, they will undoubtedly get the conference vote to go to the Rose Bowl as the only other two teams that could possibly tie Michigan State for the title — Minnesota and Ohio State—have been there since the Spartans last went in 1955.

Gilmer Lauds Lion Defense

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—"It's great to beat the Packers."

That was the way Detroit Lion coach Harry Gilmer put it after his Lions handed the giants of the National Football League's Western Division their second straight defeat, 12-7.

A week earlier, the Packers, riding on the crest of a six-game winning streak, had been dumped by the Chicago Bears.

Sunday's win by the Lions was attributed for the most part to the Detroit defense. The Packers lost 58 yards in the second half. They gained only 70 yards rushing and lost two passing for the entire game.

The biggest target of the Detroit line was Packers quarterback Bart Starr. He was thrown back 11 times for a total loss of 109 yards and a safety.

Gilmer said the Detroit defense "did as good a job as I've seen. Defensively, it would be hard to equal this game."

Hardly anyone gave the Lions much of a chance Sunday in the game against the Packers, especially after the first Lion-Packer game earlier this year.

In that contest the Lions roared off to a 21-3 halftime lead, but the Packers came back with a fantastic second half performance to win 31-21.

"We just didn't pull on offense," was the way Packer coach Vince Lombardi put it.

"Starr didn't move around too well. He was stuck in the mud, but he had no protection whatsoever."

This was best shown in the third period when Starr was thrown for losses of 15, two and seven yards on three straight plays by the Lions.

Both teams scored their touchdowns late in the first half and Detroit got the winning margin on a field goal and safety in the second half.

Arfons Regains Speed Record

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (UPI) — Ambitious Art Arfons continues to amaze members of the high speed racing fraternity who said he couldn't regain the world land speed record.

The 39-year-old Akron, Ohio, speedster not only recaptured the record Sunday by hurtling across western Utah's salt flats at 576 miles per hour but he also won the admiration of those present for his coolness under fire.

Arfons' jet racer "Green Monster" blew a tire, veered out of control and was badly damaged before he could bring the vehicle to a stop.

But all of Arfons' troubles started after he had passed through the timing lights and he was able to snatch the record from Craig Breedlove who hit 555 miles per hour only four days earlier.

It was Arfons' third brush with disaster at Bonneville in 13 months. Arfons appeared to be more shaken by the Sunday experience than by the previous two but he managed to shake off the incident and joke with reporters and others.

Fleet Stars As Northern Defeats Southern Illinois

By United Press International

Central Michigan clinched second place in the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Saturday with an easy 48-6 victory over Eastern Illinois.

Pat Boyd smashed four team records in completing 21 passes for four touchdowns and 345 yards. One of the TD passes was an 88 yarder to Wally Hempton on the game's first play. He followed that with scoring throws of 46 yards to Bob Brietzke and 58 yards to Tom Isanhart.

Northern Michigan, which upset No. 1 ranked small college power Findlay (Ohio) last week, sank a weak Southern Illinois team 24-6. Halfback Dave Fleet scored two Northern touchdowns and quarterback Bill Sauter passed for a third. Anthony Richardson kicked a 37-yard field goal and three extra points.

Accurate passing by Rick Russell enabled Kalamazoo College to roll over Earlham of Indiana 16-0. Russell hit Mike Saxby on a 31-yard scoring play and clicked again to Denny Benson for a 10-yard plunge. Northern's final two points came on a safety when Doug Seibert of Earlham was tackled in his own end zone.

Albion intercepted five passes in riding to a 25-0 win over Adrian, sinking the Bulldogs into last place in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. Albion already had clinched the MIAA title last week. Pete Boroday scored two touchdowns and Dave Neilson passed for one, to Lloyd Harper, and ran for another.

Wayne State ended its stay in the President's Athletic Conference by edging Thiel of Pennsylvania, 7-6 on a fourth-quarter comeback. Ray Sliwinski fired a touchdown pass to Paul Hay and Paul Jane kicked the conversion for the margin. Wayne States moves to independent status next season.

Eastern Michigan, which also is leaving the PAC next year, coasted to a 41-20 win over Cass Tech. Although Jim Greenfield scored two touchdowns for Case including a 91-yard run, Eastern exploded for 28 points in the second period, and then rode to victory.

A field goal late in the final period by Meredith Payne gave Indiana Central a 10-7 win over Olivet at Indianapolis. Payne's kick overcame a 57-yard touchdown by Olivet's Al Nagy early in the fourth quarter which tied the score.

In other games, Ashland of Ohio defeated Northwood 21-8, Hope College wound up its season with a 23-6 loss to Bluffton College of Ohio, Hillsdale took a non-conference win 28-20 over Findlay, of Ohio with a two-touchdown drive in the final period, and Ohio Northern overwhelmed Ferris State 48-0, holding the Bulldogs to minus 8 yards.

Indiana Central defeated Olivet 10-7 and Western Michigan toppled Ohio University 17-6.

Joliet Edges Blazers, 7-3

JOLIET, Ill. (UPI) — Dick Williams sprinted 39 yards for a touchdown in the final three minutes Sunday to lead the Joliet Explorers to a 7-3 victory over the Grand Rapids Blazers in a playoff game of the Professional Football League of America.

Bruce Conhain booted the extra point to give the Explorers their final margin over the Blazers who scored their only points on Jess Whitaker's 43-yard field goal in the third period.

The league's title is decided in a two-game "Canadian System" playoff. The two teams meet again at Grand Rapids next Sunday. Total points scored in both games determine the winner.

Bullets Trip Laker Cagers

By United Press International

The New York Knicks were idle Sunday night but had a big part in Baltimore's 137 - 116 triumph over Los Angeles.

Jim Barnes, Johnny Green and John Egan, who were traded by New York to Baltimore last week for Walt Bellamy, provided the scoring punch which brought the Bullets their fourth triumph against eight defeats.

Barnes netted 30 points, high for both clubs, and dominated play off the boards by grabbing 20 rebounds. Green added 13 points and Egan 14 after they came off the bench in the fourth quarter.

Jerry West had 26 points for the Lakers, who fell to second place in the Western Division by losing their fifth game in 11 starts.

Something has gone sour in the Dairy State and it isn't the milk.

It's the Green Bay Packers, whose only offense lately has been to National Football League fans in Wisconsin, their home state.

Unbeaten in their first six outings and averaging almost 30 points a game in their first five, the Packers offense suddenly and without apparent reason, fell apart three weeks ago and Coach Vince Lombardi and his staff haven't been able to restore it.

Green Bay has scored only three touchdowns in its last three games. Twice the Packers have been held to minus passing yardage and twice they have been unable to penetrate 100 yards total offense. The Packers fearsome rushers, Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung, have barely managed to total enough yards in eight games to represent one good day's work by Cleveland's Jim Brown.

Green Bay Out

Detroit knocked Green Bay out of first place in the Western Conference of the NFL Sunday 12-7, and limited the Packers to minus-2 yards passing and 70 yards rushing.

"(Bart) Starr didn't move around too well," lamented Lombardi, referring to the Packers quarterback. "But he had no protection whatsoever. The offensive line wasn't rushing. We haven't generated an offense all year."

Lombardi benched Hornung in favor of Elijah Pitts, who played most of the game at halfback. "We used Pitts because we needed more speed," Lombardi commented. Pitts gained 15 yards in five carries and Hornung gained only seven yards in four tries.

Baltimore took over first place in the West by outlasting Chicago 26-21, and Frank Ryan and Jim Brown accounted for six touchdowns in Cleveland's 38-34 triumph over Philadelphia that kept the Browns on top in the East.

Other Games

Charley Johnson hit Billy Gambrell with a 59 yard scoring pass with 37 seconds remaining to give St. Louis a 21-17 victory over Pittsburgh, Dallas outscored San Francisco 39-31, Minnesota whipped Los Angeles 24 - 13 and the Washington Redskins upended the New York Giants 23-7.

Detroit scored on a 13-yard field goal by Wayne Walker and a safety with less than four minutes to play to break a 7-7 tie and hand the Packers their second consecutive loss. Bruce Maher's interception of a Hornung pass set up the field goal with 3:51 left. Each team scored in the second period on one-yard plunges by Detroit's Joe Don Looney and Taylor.

Chicago Coach George Halas, angry over an apparent dropped pass that was ruled a touchdown for Baltimore and two disputed 15-yard penalties that aided Colt touchdown drives, said he would file a report with Commissioner Pete Rozelle about the officiating.

"It was a comedy of errors," Halas snapped. "I'm mighty happy Mark Duncan (NFL head of officials) was here to see the kind of officiating we had."

Surprise TD

Halas said Bear defenseman Dave Whitsell assured him the Colts' Ray Berry never had possession of a pass which was ruled a touchdown in the third quarter and which won the game for Baltimore.

"I was the most surprised person there when it was ruled a touchdown," Berry was quoted as saying. He had caught the ball momentarily after Whitsell had deflected it into the air. The pass was thrown by sub Gary Cuozzo, replacing a shaken-up Johnny Unitas at quarterback. Unitas passed 37 and 49 yards for TDs early in the game as Baltimore built up a 17 point lead.

Rudy Bukich then rallied Chicago with his passing for 14 points in the final quarter before the final drive was stalled on downs.

Ryan fired three touchdown passes and set up three other scores and Jim Brown gained 129 yards in 19 carries. Philadelphia's Tim Brown picked up 186 yards rushing in 16 carries and quarterback Norm Snead connected on 16 of 32 passes for three touchdowns in the wide-open battle.

Cards' Standing

The Cardinals remained one game behind the Browns despite a 14-point, fourth-quarter rally by Pittsburgh on the passing of Bill Nelsen, who hit Roy Jefferson on a 50-yard scoring strike and Clendon Thomas on a 37-yard play that set up the other score.

Bob Lilly and George Andrie, defensive linemen for Dallas, scored twice within 28 seconds to help whip the unlucky Forty Niners who have scored 100 points in their last three games and lost them all. Cowboy quarterback Don Meredith hit 11 of 20 passes for 201 yards and two touchdowns and George Mira of San Francisco connected on 14 of 30 for 238 yards and two TDs.

With third down and 11 yards to go on the Los Angeles 12, Minnesota quarterback Fran Tarkenton went back to pass then decided to run. He was hit at the 10 but lateraled to stunned center Mick Tingelhoff, who pitched it back to fullback Bill Brown. Brown romped in for the score that put the game out of the Rams' reach.

Washington, beaten in its first five games, won its third straight at the expense of New York. Paul Krause, a defensive back, ran 31 yards after recovering a fumble by New York's Steve Thurlow for the first Redskin score and fullback Dan Lewis fired a 26-yard scoring pass to Jerry Smith for another in the decisive first period.

Southern Cal Or UCLA To Be Spartan Opponent In Rose Bowl Grid Clash

By FRED MCMANE
UPI Sports Writer

The post - season college football bowl picture seems to be clearing up, and it looks like the New Year's day classics will be filled with "grind 'em out" style of play.

Seven of the top 10 rated teams seems headed for post season games and most of them employ a strong ground game as their major offensive weapon.

Leading the bowl lineup is top-ranked Michigan State (8-0) which drubbed Iowa 35-0 last Saturday to earn a berth in the Rose Bowl for the first time in 10 years. The Spartans ground out 318 yards rushing against the Hawkeyes with halfback Clinton Jones scoring four touchdowns.

Michigan State's opponent on New Year's day will be either fifth-ranked Southern California (5-1-1) or sixth-ranked UCLA (5-1-1), both of which are undefeated in Pacific Athletic Conference play. The two are due for a showdown on Nov. 20.

The Trojans clobbered conference rival California 35-0 Saturday while the Bruins turned back Washington 28-24. In other action involving the top 10 teams in the UPI ratings, second - ranked Arkansas blanked Rice 31 - 0. Nebraska also rated second, topped Kansas 42 - 6, fourth - ranked Notre Dame crushed Pittsburgh 69-13; seventh-ranked Alabama walloped Louisiana State 31-7, eighth - ranked Georgia Tech ninth - ranked Texas Tech smashed New Mexico State 48-and 10th - ranked Missouri whipped Colorado 20-7.

All-American candidate Mike Garrett and TD punt returns of 87 and 74 yards as the Trojans topped the Golden Bears. The mighty Trojan offense rushed for 257 yards in the contest while limiting California to just 59.

Beban's Game

Sophomore quarterback Gary Beban threw scoring passes of 58 and 60 yards to Dick Wicher and scored himself on a 60-yard scamper as the Bruins squeaked by the Huskies. Beban's heroics offset a fine performance by Washington's Tod Hullin who threw three TD passes to end Dave Williams.

Notre Dame (6-1) rolled up 574 yards total offense, 363 on the ground, to defeat Pittsburgh. Halfback Bill Wolski tallied five touchdowns for the Irish. Notre Dame has a no-bowl policy, but the Irish are looking forward to their Nov. 20 meeting with Michigan State which may well determine the nation's top-ranked team for the season.

Arkansas (8-0), headed for the Cotton Bowl, ground out 215 yards against the Owls as Bobby Burnett scored two touchdowns. The victory was the 20th in a row for the Razorbacks and a possibility of another post - season meeting with Nebraska is likely.

The Cornhuskers (8-0) rolled up 419 yards on the ground to crush Kansas with halfback Ron Kirkland accounting for 147 yards. Nebraska, which lost to Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl 10-7 last season, may decide on the Orange Bowl instead of the Cotton, and it has been rumored that the Sugar Bowl is making a strong bid to lure the Cornhuskers.

Orange Bowl Candidate

Alabama (5 - 1 - 1), another strong candidate for the Orange Bowl, got two touchdown passes from Steve Sloan and TD runs of 36 and two yards from Steve Bowman in sending LSU to its second straight loss.

Tennessee (4-0-2) may have secured itself a Sugar Bowl bid with its victory over Georgia Tech. The Vols scored all their points in the third period during a space of seven minutes.

Texas Tech's Donny Anderson scored three touchdowns and gained 157 yards rushing to lead the Red Raiders to their seventh victory in eight starts, and a deserving look for a post-season contest.

Missouri (5 - 2 - 1) took advantage of four interceptions to down Colorado, and although the Tigers can't win the Big Eight title, they also should be in line for a bowl bid.

In other Saturday action, Tulsa got five TD passes from Bill Anderson to Howard Twilley and beat Louisville 51-18. Dartmouth and Princeton remained unbeaten with victories over Columbia (47-0) and Harvard (14-6), respectively. Ohio State rallied to beat Indiana 17-10. Oregon State edged Syracuse 13 - 12 and Kentucky upended Vanderbilt 34-0.

Lincoln Ace As Chargers Rip Broncos

By JEFF MEYERS
UPI Sports Writer

Keith Lincoln, an all-league 145-pound quarterback in high school and a record-breaking 185-pound halfback in college, has a hard time convincing people he's too small at 205 pounds to play fullback in the American Football League.

"I'm not big enough to play fullback," Lincoln keeps insisting.

The Denver Broncos aren't convinced today. Lincoln was involved in four touchdowns Sunday to power the San Diego Chargers to a 34-21 triumph over the Bronco.

Best Back

Lincoln, "the best all-around back I have ever coached," according to San Diego mentor Sid Gillman, makes up for a lack of size by working out with weights and with isometrics. Alvin Roy, the Chargers' strength coach, considers Lincoln "tremendously strong, dynamite."

The fullback set a San Diego record by scoring three TD's against the Broncos. The 6-foot-1, Washington State graduate, shared six and 66 - yard touchdown passes and plunged over from the one. He also fired a 34-yard paydirt toss to flanker Lance Alworth.

In other AFL action, Buffalo drubbed Boston 23-7, Oakland walloped Houston 33-21 and New York shaded Kansas City 13-10.

John Hadl, who threw both touchdown passes to Lincoln, also tossed a 45-yard scoring bomb to Paul Lowe, the AFL's leading rusher.

First Place

The Chargers, boasting the league's highest scoring offense and stingiest defense, remained comfortably in first place in the Western Division with a 6-1-2 record.

The Bills eliminated Boston from the Eastern Division race by converting a fumble, a blocked punt and a pass interception into scores. Pete Gogolak, who had not practiced all week because of a pulled muscle, booted three field goals of 28, 16 and 32 yards for Buffalo, the East's top team. The Bills' Jackie Kemp scored from three yards out on a quarterback sneak but the play that shattered Boston was Charley Warner's 102-yard TD jaunt on a kickoff.

"We gave them possession of the ball five times but that kickoff return really killed us," Boston Coach Mike Holovak said. "They earned one field goal and on the rest we gave them the ball."

Halfback Clem Daniels kept the Raiders in the Western Division race by catching a pair of touchdown passes from Dick Wood. The Raiders have 5-3-1 slate and feel they still have a shot at overtaking the first - place Chargers. Allan Miller grabbed a nine - yard Wood pass while Daniels' TD catches were for 34 and 57 yards. Mike Mercer kicked field goals of 41, 17, 29 and 45 yards for Oakland. George Blanda completed 27 of 60 passes for the Oilers, who lost for the first time at home.

"Outstanding Team"

"I thought the whole team effort was outstanding," said Oakland Coach Al Davis. "It was a great victory. We had to win. And no question about it, the field goal kicking was exceptional."

The Jets won their first game on the road after 12 losses by utilizing a little razzle-dazzle. The Jets were trailing 10-6 when Joe Namath entered the game in the third period. The rookie quarterback marched New York down the field and culminated a six-play drive by hitting Dee Mackey on the 15 yard line. Mackey then lateraled the ball to Don Maynard, who romped into the end zone for the decisive TD.

But the Chiefs stormed back in the final period. Quarterback Len Dawson drove Kansas City to the New York 17, where the march stalled. An attempted 24-yard field goal, which would have tied the game, was blocked by Willie West with 49 seconds left, giving the Jets their second triumph of the campaign.

Rangers Defeat Red Wings, 3-2

By United Press International

It's no fluke that the New York Rangers are in third place and it'll be no surprise if they stay in contention for the National Hockey League playoffs throughout the season.

That's the opinion shared today by General Manager Emile Francis of the Rangers and Coach Sid Abel of the Detroit Red Wings after New York moved into third place with a 3-2 victory over Detroit Sunday night.

"We have better depth of talent and we are able to take care of ourselves physically more than Ranger teams of the past," said Francis. "When we learn to work together a little more and polish off our plays we'll be even better."

"The Rangers look good," said Abel. "They skated hard for 60 minutes and kept the pressure on us. And they did it after playing in Toronto — and winning —Saturday night."

The Rangers out-skated the Red Wings by a wide margin for two periods Sunday night and then fought off a third-period rally that produced goals by Goeie Howe and Ab McDonald to remain unbeaten in their last four games with three victories and a tie.

Bob Nevin scored his third and fourth goals of the season and Don Marshall tallied his third of the campaign for the Rangers, who outshot the Red Wings, 36-32. Rookie goalie Ed Giacomin starred in the nets for the Rangers.

The Chicago Black Hawks and Montreal Canadiens romped to easy wins Sunday and remained tied for first place.

Bobby Hull scored three goals and had three assists to lead the Black Hawks to a 9-0 rout of the Toronto Maple Leafs while the Canadians whipped the Boston Bruins 5-2.

Hull raised his season goal-output to 11 as the Black Hawks' nine - goal margin equalled a club record. It also was the most one-sided shutout in Black Hawk history. Phil Esposito, Eric Nesterenko, Chico Maki, Doug Mohns and Red Hay all beat Terry Sawchuck in the first period.

Bobby Rousseau, John Ferguson, Ralph Backstrom, Jean Beliveau and Claude Larose scored for the Canadiens, who peppered rookie goalie Bernie Parent with 43 shots.

Lee Smits Tells Of Dad

Hunt Tragedy Is Lesson

By LEE SMITS

Late the day before, I had hit a buck that kept on going. There was tracking snow. Next morning three of us took after the buck. Under the direction of Dad, we were a fairly efficient team.

Dad was 60 years old. He had been a lumber camp hunter. He was the best deer hunter I ever knew. Didn't drink, didn't smoke, didn't even use profanity—a calm, quiet, and skilled woodsman.

As we were leaving camp Dad remarked:

"If anybody ever shoots at me by mistake, he better make sure I'm down for keeps, because I'll shoot back, if I can."

Before noon Dad had shot and fatally wounded one of our partners. As he heard the man's scream, Dad fell to the ground. He was mentally and physically disabled from then on and died within three years.

When I hear amateurs tell about the wild-eyed greenhorns who make the woods dangerous for careful hunters, I re-live that terrible day.

★ ★ ★

Two lessons linger:

No. 1—No one who carries a gun is ever 100 per cent certain never to have an accident.

No. 2—The victim wore grey wool pants. Glaring color should be a part of every deer hunter's garb.

Psychologists tell us that lessons, repeated as a person goes to sleep, stay in the unconscious mind. If every hunter had a little prayer, an admonition, a rule, that he silently reiterated the night before he started out, it seems probabl that the most horrible aspect of hunting would be minimized.

Actually, a deer hunter is in more danger driving to camp and back than he is while in the woods.

You often hear that certain parts of Michigan are perilous because of the swarms of hunters. As a matter of fact the accident rate is higher in the west end of the Upper Peninsula, with fewer hunters, than it is in Lower Peninsula counties such as Roscommon, where there are more hunters, and, in every hunter's mind, the expectation that the next moving object he sees will be a human being, not a deer.

Nowadays there is only one sure way of getting a deer—sitting!

The late Mike Cicotte, hunting out of a camp at the head of the Hurricane, constructed for himself a nest in a brush pile at the edge of a swamp. He settled himself in his hideout before day break, he stayed there—day after day—as long as there was shooting light. As I recall, Mike hung up a buck every fall. One time he killed a large bear.

There are those who can't possibly sit, motionless, hour after hour. If you belong in that category, sit for an hour at the beginning and close of each day and try still-hunting the rest of the time. Go slow, go still, up-wind, across-wind. Take a few steps. Stand. Look over every foot of the visible landscape. If you have not learned to see deer, it isn't easy. When you are certain there isn't a deer within range, take a few more steps and repeat.

★ ★ ★

More and more hunters use scopes. There isn't too much open country in Michigan deer country. Most deer are killed within 100 yards. But a scope gathers light. It gives the hunter a shooting chance for an extra half an hour in the morning and in the evening.

A word of advice to sitters. Don't hike out to your stand all bundled up. You are sweaty when you get there, you quickly become chilled, and sitting becomes painful. Carry your heavy outer clothing in a tote bag. Put it on as you settle down on the stand.

Two more pieces of advice. Hunt every minute you're in the woods! Be ready as you step out of camp, as you leave your car, as you make ready to eat a sandwich.

Bear in mind that more deer hunters die of heart attacks than of bullet wounds. Never mind proving how rugged you are, pulling out that buck, pushing that stalled car, keeping up with a long-legged young man, or niking across country.

Oh, yes—almost forgot. Target your rifle before you start hunting. Do that every year, without fail. Know precisely what your weapon will do, with the cartridge of your choice.

Public Health Work Unified

LANSING (UPI)—Acting Gov. William G. Milliken moved further along the governmental reorganization trail Wednesday when he signed an executive order creating the Department of Public Health.

The new department, to be headed by State Health Commissioner Albert Heutis, will be formed from a combination of the present Health Department and seven other agencies.

So far eight new departments have been created under the 1965 Reorganization Act. The purpose of the act is to consolidate about 130 state departments and agencies into 19 new departments.

Transferred to the new Department of Public Health were the Michigan Council of Health; Advisory Hospital Council; Advisory Council of Tuberculosis Sanatoriums; Advisory Committee on the Use of Animals; Anatomy Committee; State Board of Alcoholism; and the Michigan Crippled Children Commission.

A pair of ostriches is worth almost $1,000.

Peanut Butter Tastes Differ

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government contends that the next time you bite into a peanut butter sandwich you may get a mouthful of something else. Peanut butter authorities complain it's all a big smear.

A showdown came at a hearing on a Food and Drug Administration (FDA) proposal that all peanut butter be at least 90 per cent peanuts or peanut products.

On one side was FDA food and drug officer Sidney Weissenberg, bolstered by a government attorney and a spokeswoman for a group called the "federation of homemakers." On the other was some high-powered legal talent representing Proctor & Gamble, Corn Products and other big names in the peanut butter set.

Weissenberg told the hearing the FDA proposal stemmed from an April, 1958, inspection he made of the Proctor & Gamble plant in Lexington, Ky.

He said he discovered the plant was making two products it called peanut butter. One was Big Top peanut butter, which was made of about 90 per cent peanut products. But the other was "Jif," which only boasted about 75 per cent peanut products.

Weissenberg said that about 20 per cent of Jif was in fact nothing else than Crisco, a shortening made of hydrogenated oil. "I consider the foreign oil as an illegal adulterant of peanut butter," the official charged.

Warren Adams, vice president and general counsel of Corn Products, which makes Skippy peanut butter, turned the tables momentarily on the FDA man in the following.

"I understand you eat peanut butter," Adams challenged.

"Yes sir," replied Weissenberg.

"Have you eaten Skippy peanut butter?"

"Yes sir."

"Do you like it?"

"No sir."

"Then 50 million children are wrong?"

"I'm only testifying about my own taste," responded the official.

BEAVER FOOD

Favorite food of the beaver is the bark of the poplar or quaking aspen but they will seek their fare on most hardwood trees. Some vegetation also finds its place in their diet.
